SRC
I had the pleasure of attending the Upper Hunter Youth Council Meeting with Emily and Nathan, two of our Student Representative Council members. Both students were excellent ambassadors for our school and contributed to the meeting with their ideas and opinions. The Youth Council holds a range of activities for primary and high school aged children. The students run a website with the assistance of their mentor Mary Spora. This website is well worth a look for the older students and contains a range of different activities.

Too sick for school?
As the cold weather hits, so do the winter bugs. It’s often hard to know whether to send your child to school or let them stay home to recover, especially when that means an adult cancelling work. For safety’s sake, if your child seems unwell you should always keep them home from school and seek medical advice. School A to Z and the NSW Health have created an at-a-glance chart to help answer your questions about common childhood illness and how long sick kids need to miss school. Find it by typing this link into your web browser www.bit.ly/1hytn2E

Mental maths strategies
We teach children a range of different strategies to add and subtract numbers. By showing them several methods for solving maths questions, we’re helping them to look for patterns. All this builds a good sense of “number” which means they understand the relationships between different numbers and why different ways to add and subtract work well. The goal is that your child will understand many ways to approach a maths problem and will be able to choose a way that makes the most sense to them. School A to Z has a lot of resources, including help sheets on mental maths strategies. www.bit.ly/JkiUsY
